STATUTORY DECLARATION OF RTI ACT

Sri Raaja Raajan College of Engineering & Technology, Amaravathipudur, Karaikudi – 630301, Sivaganga District, Tamil Nadu, hereby makes a legal statement that it practices the right to data for residents to ensure access to information controlled by public authorities, to promote transparency and accountability in the functioning of every public authority, the constitution of a Central Information Commission and State Information Commissions, and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto under Section 4 (1) (b) of the RTI Act 2005 as provided and amended from time to time.

The RTI Law:

The Parliament passed the Right to Information Act, 2005 (Act No. 22 of 2005), which took effect on June 15, 2005. This Act grants citizens the right to access information under the control of public authorities to encourage transparency and accountability in their operations. Under this Act, a university or college is considered a public authority if it is owned directly or indirectly by funds provided by the government, established by law or notification from the appropriate government, or established by law.

While some provisions of this Act went into effect immediately upon its enactment (on June 15, 2005), other provisions took 100 or 120 days to come into force. All colleges and schools are subsequently encouraged to carefully review this Act and take necessary steps for the implementation of its various provisions, including proactive disclosure of certain types of information. The concerned university or college is responsible for making this information available to the general public via its website.
